Dear Colleague,

On behalf of the International Cocoa Organization, its Council and its member countries, I would like to invite all stakeholders in the cocoa and chocolate sector to join us for the fourth edition of the World Cocoa Conference, in Berlin, Germany, 22-25 April 2018.

At a time when there are significant threats to the sector, and its various stakeholder groups, we have a welcome opportunity at the Conference to discuss and deal with the most difficult issues in cocoa. We at the ICCO strongly feel that these serious topics need to be addressed by all members of the value chain, from farmers (and especially from them) through the trade and industry to the final consumer.

We are able to present this fourth edition of the World Cocoa Conference as a result of the gracious invitation of our hosts, the government of the Federal Republic of Germany. In Berlin, we will be striving even more than previously to bring the whole sector and the entire chain into the discussions. To that end, we have not only gathered a range of expertise across a huge spectrum of cocoa and chocolate knowledge and experience. With the help of some technology, we are also planning to focus much more on interactivity and stimulating discussions among all our attendees, across four different areas of sustainable development.

The reason we are doing this is because we feel that the difficulties currently faced by the cocoa sector can never be solved by one element of the value chain alone.

It is only by involving producers and the consumers, trade and industry, governments, civil society and other relevant development partners, that we will be able to progress along the road toward those sustainable goals in the Global Cocoa Agenda that we first mapped out together in 2012 at the first World Cocoa Conference in Abidjan.

Beyond these core topics, we are pleased once again to be looking in depth at the Fine and Flavour cocoa sector, and the speciality chocolate segment which is linked to it. And we are most gratified to be returning to the topic of Women in Cocoa and Chocolate, which should offer us all new insights into the way, regardless of gender, we can all work together for the benefit of the whole sector.

Once again we will have an Exhibition bringing together some of the most important businesses and organisations serving the sector, and there will also be innovative sessions and more light-hearted opportunities to network and compare experiences.

If you are a cocoa or chocolate sector stakeholder, please join us in Berlin. This event is for you: to move the sector forward, we need your input and we would like to hear your voice.

Dr. Jean-Marc Anga
Executive Director
International Cocoa Organization

WOMEN IN COCOA AND CHOCOLATE EVENT (BERLIN ROOM) · MONDAY 23 APRIL 2018

Open to all attendees - The (not so) secret recipe for a future vision for the cocoa sector: add more women!
Research from Harvard University, the World Bank, McKinsey, Solidaridad and Oxfam, to name but a few, shows that adding more women to any process results in improved innovation, profits and impact. The cocoa sector is facing unprecedented challenges related to human rights, responsible trade and climate change. Join us for a thought-provoking and engaging discussion about how adding more women to the mix can help the sector face these challenges in innovative and powerful new ways.

Solidaridad and Mondelez International with its Cocoa Life team are pleased to invite you on Monday evening 23 April, right after the last plenary session of the formal programme of the ICCO conference WCGA, between 18.00 and 21.00 hrs. The event will take place in the Berlin Room in the Marriott Hotel.

CONFERENCE VENUE

Berlin provides the perfect location for the World Cocoa Conference 2018, as capital of one of the world’s most important consuming countries and as a dynamic and cosmopolitan city offering something for every visitor.

Germany is the largest chocolate market in Europe and its per capita consumption is second only to that of neighbouring Switzerland. It has long been an important cocoa processor and is home to some of the world’s leading developers of processing technology. With the strong interest of German consumers in sustainable food production, this location will provide a context for the issues to be addressed at the World Cocoa Conference 2018.

The Hotel Maritim Berlin is located close to the vibrant Potsdamer Platz and a short walk from some of Berlin’s most iconic monuments including the Reichstag and the Brandenburg Gate. Offering all the amenities you would expect at a leading conference venue, the hotel gives you luxurious, convenient and good value accommodation for your stay in Berlin.

NEW FEATURES FOR 2018

Delegates will benefit from new features designed to encourage sharing ideas, meeting new contacts and building valuable partnerships within the cocoa sector.

Dig deeper during round table discussions and impact interviews:
Every coffee and lunch break Solidaridad organizes Impact Interviews on the couch in the foyer (1st floor). 7 opinion makers from industry, governments and civil society organizations are interviewed. Come, get inspired and voice your opinion for change that matters.

Have your voice heard with interactive polling during the conference:
Be an active participant in the conference sessions by sharing your own opinions with moderators and the rest of the audience by responding to on-stage questions via the latest polling technology. Express your own views and get a snapshot of what your industry peers think.

A tweet wall to capture views and insights throughout the event:
Use the hashtag #WCC4BERLIN when you tweet photos and comments and see them appear on screens around the event. By capturing and displaying tweets from participants, as well as commentators from around the world, the tweet wall will capture the dynamic spirit of the event.
SPONSORSHIP AND EXHIBITION OPPORTUNITIES

As the leading forum for the global cocoa and chocolate industry, the World Cocoa Conference gives you an unrivalled opportunity to communicate your message to leaders in this sector from businesses, governments and NGOs.

As a sponsor or exhibitor at this event, you will gain exposure to over 1,500 participants, and to thousands of other decision-makers around the world who will be reached by our press activity before and after the conference. Our audience is drawn from a cross-section of all stakeholders in the cocoa value chain, from all over the world. So if you want to influence chocolate manufacturers, cocoa processors, producing organisations or any of the service providers in this sector, this is the ideal platform.
